SAMPLE

This plan reads your home with traditional Vastu Shastra direction tables, the same ones VastuIQ's free tools use, and adds numerology and muhurat as separate sections that never change the Vastu score. It is traditional guidance, not an engineering, structural, medical or financial opinion.

1 Your plan at a glance

Your overall Vastu score, the three things to fix first and what is already working.

Needs attention

9 rooms and the main door were checked against the classical direction tables. Each room is scored 0 to 100 for where it sits; the home score weighs the important rooms (kitchen, master bedroom, pooja, main door) more.

The three things to fix first

1. Major: Kitchen in the North-East
2. Major: Toilet in the centre
3. Major: Pooja in the South-West

What is already good

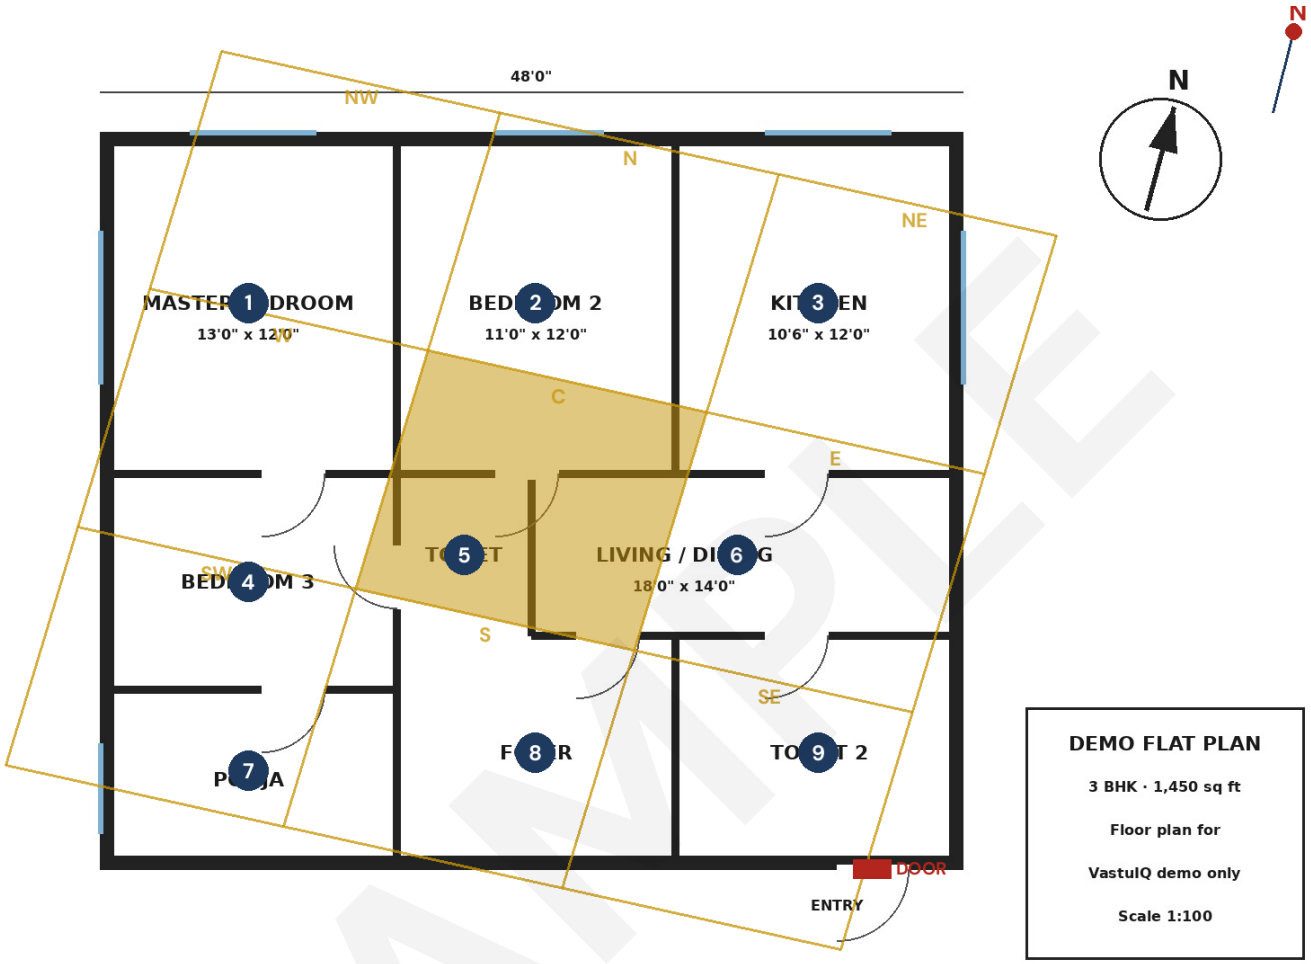

- Bedroom 3 in the South-West (88)
- Living / Dining in the East (85)

> Your family at a glance. 4 members; 4 numerology profiles; 27 Griha Pravesh dates in the next 6 months for Mohali.

SAMPLE

2 Your home, marked up

Where each room sits on the 9-zone Vastu grid, with north as used for this plan.

Gold lines: the 9 zones. Shaded: the central zone (Brahmasthan). Red: the main door. N: north as used (from the arrow on your plan).

North-West 1. Master Bedroom	North 2. Bedroom 2	North-East 3. Kitchen
West –	Centre 5. Toilet	East 6. Living / Dining
South-West 4. Bedroom 3, 7. Pooja	South 8. Foyer	South-East 9. Toilet 2 Main door

3 Room-by-room check

Each room's zone, its score, what is right and what to change.

Master Bedroom · North-West — 60

the air zone; traditionally linked with movement and guests

Best place: South-West, traditionally the zone of earth and stability, for the head of the household.

Inside the room: Bed against the south or west wall so you sleep with your head to the south (or east). Wardrobe and heavy furniture on the south-west side; keep the north-east corner light.

Bedroom 2 · North — 70

traditionally linked with wealth and opportunity

Best place: West, South or South-West; North-West suits guests and older children.

Inside the room: Sleep with your head to the south or east; tradition avoids sleeping with the head to the north. Keep the study desk, if any, facing east or north.

Kitchen · North-East MAJOR — 5

traditionally the most sacred zone; kept light, clean and open

Best place: South-East, the zone traditionally linked with Agni (fire). North-West is the usual second choice.

Inside the room: Cook facing east if you can. Keep the sink and the cooktop apart rather than side by side (water and fire), and keep heavy storage on the south and west walls.

What to change:

- Cook facing East where the layout allows; move a portable cooktop only if it is easy to do. (No cost)
- Keep the north-east part of the kitchen light and uncluttered; store heavy pots and appliances on the south or west side. (No cost)
- Use warm accent colours (terracotta, orange, red) in kitchen towels, mats and other things you already have, rather than repainting. (Low cost)

Bedroom 3 · South-West — 88

traditionally linked with stability; kept heavy and closed

Best place: West, South or South-West; North-West suits guests and older children.

Inside the room: Sleep with your head to the south or east; tradition avoids sleeping with the head to the north. Keep the study desk, if any, facing east or north.

Toilet · Centre MAJOR — not scored traditionally kept open and free of toilets, stairs and heavy walls

Best place: North-West or West.

Inside the room: Keep the toilet lid down and the door closed; keep it clean and dry.

Living / Dining · East — 85

the rising sun; traditionally linked with health and new beginnings

Best place: North, North-East or East.

Inside the room: Main sofa on the south or west side so people sit facing north or east. Keep the north-east part of the room the most open; put the TV and heavier units on the south-east or south-west walls.

Pooja · South-West MAJOR 5

traditionally linked with stability; kept heavy and closed

Best place: North-East (Ishanya), traditionally the most sacred zone.

Inside the room: Place images on the east or north wall so you face east or north while praying; keep the space clean and away from bathroom walls.

What to change:

- If a separate room is not possible, set up a small shrine on a shelf in the north-east part of the living area. (No cost)
- Place images so you face east or north while praying. (No cost)
- Keep the shrine area clean and away from bathroom walls. (No cost)

Foyer · South 55

traditionally suited to heavy, closed rooms

Best place: North, North-East or East.

Inside the room: Keep shoes and bins to the side, not in line with the door; a warm light and a clear path from the door.

What to change:

- Keep the entry bright, clean and clear so the door opens fully. (No cost)

Toilet 2 · South-East 50

the fire zone; traditionally the kitchen's place

Best place: North-West or West.

Inside the room: Keep the toilet lid down and the door closed; keep it clean and dry.

What to change:

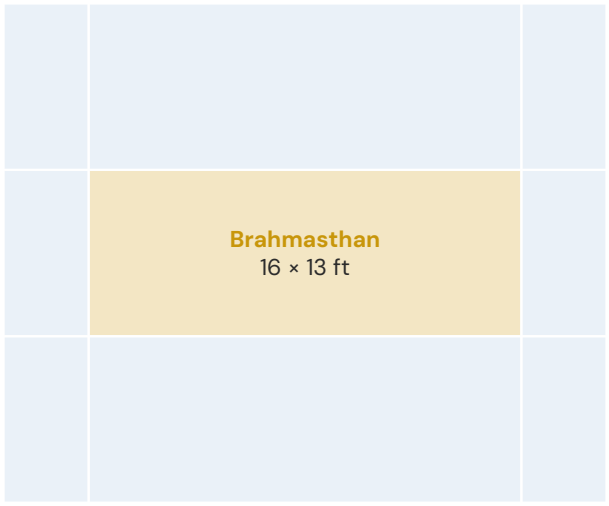

- Keep the door closed and the lid down; keep the room clean and dry. (No cost)
- Run the exhaust fan or open the window after use so the room stays dry and fresh. (No cost)

A room in the centre of the home lowers the score by 6 points (see section 4).

4 Brahmasthan (the centre)

The central ninth of your home, Brahmasthan, is traditionally kept open, light and free.

Not to scale.

Your centre
Home size	48 × 39 ft
Central zone	16 × 13 ft (about 208 sq ft)
From the walls	16 ft in from the East and West walls, 13 ft in from the North and South walls
In the centre now	Toilet

Needs attention: Toilet in the central zone. Keep it as clean, dry and bright as possible; if it is ever rebuilt, move it out of the centre.

Keep

• Keep the centre open, light and uncluttered: a hall, a passage or a low table is fine.
• Let daylight or a good ceiling light fall on it; keep it clean every day.
• If a wall or pillar must stand here, keep the area around it free and bright.

Avoid

• A toilet, kitchen, staircase, lift or water tank in the central zone.
• Heavy furniture, storage or almirahs piled in the middle of the home.
• Dark, damp or closed corners in the centre.

5 Main door

Your main door's direction and, where the plan shows it, its exact position on the wall (pada).

Direction	Score	Best directions
South-East	75	North, North-East or East.

Pada E8 · Transitional zone (Needs attention) · East wall, 96% of the way from the North-East corner. The wall is divided into 8 padas; the middle ones are the most favourable.

Door sits right next to a corner (E8): Positions beside a corner sit where two directions meet and are treated with the most care in the pada method.

- Keep the threshold clear, clean and well lit at all times.
- Switch on the door light every evening and keep the house number clean and clearly visible.
- If you renovate, shifting the door toward the centre of the wall is traditionally favoured.

Every day: Keep the door area bright and clear, with a readable nameplate and a doormat; the door should open fully and silently.

8 Who sleeps where

The best bedroom for each member of the family, from the bedrooms in your home.

Who	Suggested room	Fit	Best directions
Rajesh & Priya Head of family (main couple)	Bedroom 3 (South-West)	100	South-West, South
Kamla Elderly parent(s)	Bedroom 2 (North)	70	South, South-West, West
Aarav Child (under 13)	Master Bedroom (North-West)	85	West, North-West

Why

Head of family (main couple): The South-West is traditionally the zone of earth, stability and authority, so it goes to the person or couple who runs the home and takes its big decisions. South comes next.

Elderly parent(s): Elderly parents are traditionally given a settled, stable room: South first, then the South-West or West. If they still head the household, choose 'Head of family' for them instead.

Child (under 13): Children's rooms are traditionally best in the West or North-West. Young children can also use the North, East or even the North-East, which is light and calm.

SAMPLE

9 Each member's numbers

11 Fixes without demolition

Every change in one list, most important first. All are practical; none needs demolition unless marked, and nothing needs to be bought.

#	Where	What to do	Cost
1	Kitchen (North-East)	Cook facing East where the layout allows; move a portable cooktop only if it is easy to do.	No cost
2	Kitchen (North-East)	Keep the north-east part of the kitchen light and uncluttered; store heavy pots and appliances on the south or west side.	No cost
3	Kitchen (North-East)	Use warm accent colours (terracotta, orange, red) in kitchen towels, mats and other things you already have, rather than repainting.	Low cost
4	Kitchen (North-East)	Add a bright task light over the stove; good light on the cooking area is the common no-construction remedy.	Low cost
5	Kitchen (North-East)	If you renovate, plan the range on the south-east wall.	Building work
6	Pooja (South-West)	If a separate room is not possible, set up a small shrine on a shelf in the north-east part of the living area.	No cost
7	Pooja (South-West)	Place images so you face east or north while praying.	No cost
8	Pooja (South-West)	Keep the shrine area clean and away from bathroom walls.	No cost
9	Toilet (Centre)	Keep the door closed and the lid down; keep the room clean and dry.	No cost
10	Toilet (Centre)	Run the exhaust fan or open the window after use so the room stays dry and fresh.	No cost
11	Main door position	Keep the threshold clear, clean and well lit at all times.	No cost
12	Main door position	Switch on the door light every evening and keep the house number clean and clearly visible.	No cost
13	Main door position	If you renovate, shifting the door toward the centre of the wall is traditionally favoured.	Building work
14	Foyer (South)	Keep the entry bright, clean and clear so the door opens fully.	No cost
15	Master Bedroom (North-West)	Its best place is the South-West or South. If you can choose how rooms are used, use a room there for this purpose; until then follow the "Inside the room" advice in section 3.	No cost

12 Your action checklist

One page to keep: what to do and when.

This week

- ☐ Kitchen (North-East): Cook facing East where the layout allows; move a portable cooktop only if it is easy to do.
- ☐ Kitchen (North-East): Keep the north-east part of the kitchen light and uncluttered; store heavy pots and appliances on the south or west side.
- ☐ Pooja (South-West): If a separate room is not possible, set up a small shrine on a shelf in the north-east part of the living area.
- ☐ Pooja (South-West): Place images so you face east or north while praying.
- ☐ Pooja (South-West): Keep the shrine area clean and away from bathroom walls.
- ☐ Toilet (Centre): Keep the door closed and the lid down; keep the room clean and dry.
- ☐ Keep the main door area clean and well lit, with a working nameplate.

This month

- ☐ Kitchen (North-East): Use warm accent colours (terracotta, orange, red) in kitchen towels, mats and other things you already have, rather than repainting.
- ☐ Kitchen (North-East): Add a bright task light over the stove; good light on the cooking area is the common no-construction remedy.

13 Reviewer's notes

This is a sample written for a demo flat, to show what the reviewer's notes look like.

The kitchen sits in the North-East, which classical Vastu treats as a major defect; it cannot be moved without rebuilding, so section 11 lists the practical steps that soften it: keep the north-east part of the kitchen light, cook facing East, keep heavy storage on the south and west walls. The pooja room is in the South-West: for a family that can choose, a shelf shrine in the north-east of the living area is the better place.

Your questions

Is the north-east kitchen a problem, and what can we do without breaking walls?

Yes, a kitchen in the North-East is one of the placements Vastu treats most seriously, so this home's overall score cannot go above 59 however well the other rooms sit. Without breaking walls: cook facing East, keep the north-east corner of the kitchen clear and light, and keep the gas cylinder and heavy storage on the south-east and south-west sides. If you ever renovate, moving the cooking range to the south-east wall is the main fix.

How this plan was made

Rooms and directions: read from your floor plan. Vastu scores: VastuIQ's classical direction tables (the same as the free Vastu Analyzer). Colours: VastuIQ Home Colour rules. Furniture: VastuIQ Furniture Placement rules. Bedrooms: VastuIQ Family Room rules. Numbers: traditional numerology (Mulank, Life Path, Chaldean name number, Lo Shu grid). Dates: VastuIQ's Shubh Muhurat calculator (panchang for the city).

Vastu Shastra, numerology and muhurat are traditional systems. This plan is guidance for arranging and using your home, not a promise about health, money, marriage or any other outcome, and not an engineering, structural or legal opinion.
